Our mission is to nurture dignity for all by encouraging democratic relationships and a sense of belonging.

What We Do. A nonprofit educational organization founded in 1975, PSAS offers information, workshops, lectures, courses, and other support to parents, teachers, counselors, therapists, social workers, psychologists, workplace managers, and other people who are interested in mutually respectful, cooperative relationships and democratic community-building in families, classrooms, workplaces, and elsewhere.

Adlerian Psychology in Brief. Early in the 20th century, Alfred Adler, M.D., a Viennese physician and psychiatrist, came to a holistic understanding of human nature and the great importance of our perceptions and our relationships for our own emotional and physical health and for the health of our families and communities. Adlerian Psychology holds that human beings are goal-oriented and choice-making by nature, not mechanistically victims of instinct, drives, and environment. As social beings, our basic goal is to belong. Although heredity and environment have strong influences, to a large extent we make our own choices of how to belong. Sometimes our choices result from mistaken perceptions. Children, for example, sometimes seem to believe that they belong only when they are the center of attention. Some adults act as if they believe they belong only when they can control others, or take revenge on others, or withdraw from others. Adlerians hope to let go of such "private logic" and embrace dignity and respect in all relationships, contribute to the welfare of others, and thereby become emotionally and physically healthier and create a more democratic culture.

Orders Are Welcome. We greatly appreciate your interest and your orders (see the order form on p. 8). Books in English and Spanish are available. Spanish titles are shown in red. Sales and rentals help support a wide range of information and referral services for parents, teachers, counselors, doctors and nurses, social service agencies, and nonprofit organizations. (Please note that prices can be changed without notice, reflecting publishers' increases.)

Discounts. PSAS members receive a 20% discount on most purchases. Parenting instructors receive a 15% discount on books purchased in quantity for parenting courses. Schools and libraries receive 15% off most purchases.

Library: Our library lends books and some tapes and videos for no charge other than shipping. Other tapes and videos may be rented for a low fee (or free if the borrower is in one of our parenting classes). See our catalog at www.LibraryThing.com/catalog/PSASLibrary, or call to browse.

The Parenting Calendar: See our website (www.psasadler.org/calendar.pdf) for a listing of parenting courses, coaches and mentors, and support groups offered by a great many organizations in the central Puget Sound area.
